Thus far, Reverend Doctor, you stand before the respectable Prelate in the case of an indifferent Clergyman coming into his archdiocese, and there celebrating the Mass without having produced letters of recommendation from your Ordinary, or made any sort of application for faculties to him, who alone could grant them, and without whose approbation and consent, no Priest could without sin exercise any sacerdotal function within his jurisdiction. Because he warned you with exemplary lenity, that by so doing Col. 11. t Ibid. you incurred the censures of the Church, you inteniperately launch out into that torrent of abuse, scurrility, irrelevancy, falsehood, calumny, and irreverence, which defdes every page of Columbanus, No. V. Up to the moment of your receipt of Dr. Troy s letter to you of the 17th...
