Merely no phrases to spell out. I actually have read through and I am certain that I will gonna study once again again later on. You won't truly feel monotony at any time of your time (that's what catalogues are for about should you check with me).

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from God s Mercies Towards the Nation: A Sermon Preached in St. Paul s Chapel, New York, Thanksgiving Day, 1861 How long is it, brethren, since last we kept Thanksgiving Day? How long, how much have we lived meanwhile? You talk of a twelvemonth; but do you not rather mean twelve years? Have these been only months through which we have been passing? Is it but one short year since, as a united people, we gave God thanks for all the blessings of His merciful providence? Is it but seven months since the first gun broke the dream, since the first shot tore through the line of the nations quiet and peaceable progress? It seems as though one had lived half a century, at least, in this short space. It seems as though, since last Thanksgiving, our world had been turned upside down. We have kept two national fasts; we have come through fire and water; we have been called to the royal heritage of sorrow; we have been taught as if by briars and thorns; we have drained the cup of humiliation in stern, sad silence. One need not be ashamed to confess to days of concentrated bitterness of soul and spirit as known to him, but too well, in these months just gone.
