Excerpt: . . . I say, therefore, my fellow-citizens, and I hope to satisfy you before I close, that this Invasion of Columbia County was a purely political raid, and the local leaders of the Republican abolition party are guilt of an outrage, which will make such a record against them, as many of our citizens remember against their fathers during the Revolution. They have made a history which they shall not escape--they have made a record, during their short lease of place and power, which will remain forever against them, and which their sons will blush to read, if public virtue and private rectitude shall ever find a lodgment in their breasts. On Saturday evening, August 13th, 1864, the quiet village of Bloomsburg, the county seat of Columbia County, was suddenly disturbed by the appearance on its streets of eighty cavalry and forty infantry and two pieces...
