Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Lance C Schafer (illustrator). 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.L.A. Success is a very weird, quirky comedy that will change the way you see Los Angeles forever. It is a book in which the drunkenness and pure stupidity of the narrator lead to endlessly ridiculous situations. Readers who want books to be realistic and believable should definitely avoid this bizarre tale. But for those of you who can handle a poodle named Ballsack, a toilet-dwelling extra-terrestrial, and a foreign exchange student who learned to speak English by memorizing heavy metal lyrics, read on: In the black hole of excess and wealth that is Los Angeles, Lonnie Herisson's life is about to get weird. Forced to find work after his live-in girlfriend stops paying the bills and moves out of his eyesore of a house, Lonnie takes a job house sitting for a private investigator. When a mysterious man arrives looking to hire someone to keep tabs on his supposedly unfaithful lover, Lonnie sees it as a golden opportunity to make easy money. He pretends to be the investigator and takes the case. The job leads Lonnie into the seedy world of L.A. real estate, where his target, the sexagenarian, chain-smoking nymphomaniac Gertie Elliot, uses a variety of dubious techniques to sell houses. But as he gets deeper into the investigation, he learns that things aren't as obvious as they appeared to be at the beginning, and that Gertie Elliot is actually linked to the surprising, secret origins of one of Hollywood's most cherished films. With this new knowledge in hand, Lonnie must find a way to make as much money as possible off of an increasingly complicated...
